

Wild Blend
pure relief
premium emu oil

When your best friend is in pain
you want to do all you can to help.

As our dogs get older they can experience the pain and inflammation of arthritis in the same way we do. They can have trouble getting around, chasing a ball or a stick or even simply getting up and laying down.

Wild Blend Pure Relief for dogs enables you to give your beloved pet the very best in nutrition and relieve the pain of arthritis symptoms they may be experiencing. Wild Blend increases joint mobility and reduces the pain caused by this debilitating condition.

Our dogs can be affected by many of the same conditions as we humans are so naturally we want to give them the same level of care we would expect. As with humans, giving complete nutrition to your dogs body can alleviate many canine health problems.

Wild Blend Pure Relief for Dogs Will

- 🐾 Promote easy, fluid movement in joints that have been restricted by arthritis
- 🐾 Assist in stimulating and boosting immunity
- 🐾 Maintain optimum joint health
- 🐾 Reduce the pain caused by joint inflammation

Monty's Story

Monty is a twelve year old Smithfield cross and is a treasured member of our family. Monty had arthritis coming on for a few years in the winter time but last year was the worst. Suddenly there was a huge deterioration and he just couldn't get up.

We started bringing him inside in the warm as he was finding it difficult to even get up. A lot of the time we needed to help get on his feet and it often needed two of us, so we didn't hurt him. He would often yelp when we tried to move. We gave him an electric blanket and hot water bottles to make him more comfortable. We tried other preparations on the market but noticed little change.

Since we have been giving him Wild Blend we have not had to take Monty to the vet for cortisone shots. Wild Blend has enabled Monty to get up by himself and move around more comfortably. It has given him back some agility and flexibility and has given him obvious relief from the pain he was experiencing.

I was thinking last winter would be his last and we would have to look at putting him down, because he was in so much pain. That's a real issue we all face when you have an older dog. I had actually started to prepare my six year old son for the prospect that we may need to put Monty down. Now we have hope for another year or two perhaps. This summer he is even more active and even running around, and I didn't expect him to be doing that again. And he seems to have maintained a greater level of health rather than deteriorating further. He is looking great and still has the joy of life and runs to meet you for a pat.

He is still an older dog but Wild Blend has given him back a quality of life and some comfort in his older years. Our kids love Monty and Wild Blend has enabled them to have more time with him as part of our family.
