Remember when you could move easily, wiggle to your favourite song, really have some fun without any pain. Really just getting out and living life to the full.....

If arthritis is a part of your life, it has been a while.....quite a while.. You just cant get around like you used to and you don't have the flexibility you once had.

Take control of your body now and demand to have your wiggle back. Put the fun back into each and every moment of your life.
